Car Grazes Her Skirt as She Leaps to Safety

BRUGES, Belgium - WPD Britain's Princess Margaret swept a small boy from the path of an on-rushing automobile and then leaped to safety herself today in a narrow brush with death.

The princess, on a third day of a quiet visit to Belgium, was walking with her party through the market square of this ancient city when a small European car there are the square of the same than the same than the same than the square than the square than the same than th drove straight at them.

MARGARET SWEPT up youngster directly in the auto's path. She then jumped aside herself as the car braked sharply and came to a stop after grazing her skirt.

A woman was driving.

A British detective accompany-ing Margaret, Chief Inspector Frederick Crocker, sprang for-ward to make sure the princess was all right.

Postponed to Monday, Oct. 13

PALM DESERT — Opening of Shadow Mountain School, a new private institution here, has been postponed until Oct. 13.

The school was scheduled to open yesterday at the old Palm Desert post office, but school officials said the postal unit has not completed its move to new facilities.

School opening has been re-scheduled for Oct. 13, according to Mrs. Florence Purvis, school supervisor.
The school, which offers classes in grades one through six, is designed as a preparatory institution for high school. It was organized by area Realtors Hal Kapp and Ted Smith.

Boston was the site of the first YMCA in the U.S., although Montreal's "Y" was established four days earlier.

EIGHTEEN YEARS and a lot of studying is the preface of the arrival of Commander B. F. Moore to Palm Springs, as he is met at the plane by his wife, family, and vice-mayor and brother-in-law Ted McKinney. Commander Moore is a graduate of Palm Springs High School—Class of 1940. After graduation he joined the U.S. Navy as a radioman and later held a machinist mate rating. He attended pre-flight school and graduated as pilot. Stationed at Bremerton, Wash., he is on a short leave before taking his family and reporting to Guam for duty in the Pacific for two years. Though I hardly knew him, I recall a telling incident. I was in the White House at the task of brain-picking one of the close-tolke staffers when his phone rang and he was told to come to the President's study, pronto. "Like to come along?" I was saked

THE PRESIDENTIAL study where Mr. Truman held his first term press conferences, is oval, elegantly carpeted, beautiful in the simplicity of its furnishings, and at certain hours golden with sunshine. The President and a few others were there when I ar rived. A new man was to be sworn in and witnesses were re-quired. The oath was given, a book was signed, some hand book was signed, some hand-shakes were exchanged and then some lightweight conversation

Through it all, one person stood a little withdrawn. He had a sensitive, distinguished face, a bearing that was modest yet mmanding, a chill vet pitifully lonesome air about him. His loneliness was not very successfully disguised by the thin, scornful smile that played upon his lips. When the smile relaxed, a look of sadness and anartnes came upon his visage. This was

THOSE WHO WATCHED his close-up television performance when Adams resigned as Assis-tant to the President have seen about as much of the man as most persons know.

At lunch hour in Washington press circles on the day of Adams' heralded farewell address, there was much fun and ribaldry. Did Adams have a dog to match Nixon's cocker spaniel Vice President's memorable TV appearance in 1952? Would Sherm appear wrapped in an oriental rug? Would he strip down to a vicuna G-string? Would he scoop everybody by firing Eisenhower?

WELL, WASHINGTON is the city without a heart. I remem-ber writing here last autumn President went to and humiliating stroke. There was a great deal of witty talk about his impaired speech and absent-mindedness. Many of the absent-mindedness. Many of the jokes were clever, and almost all were cruel. Not once did I hear a word of kindly regret about this decent, friendly person and fellow townsman

There is a callousness in Washington that does not exist in any other American city. In Washingto count are politics, entertaining, business, ideology, influence and rhetoric — the very last thing on the list is common

NESS was operating in the case of Sherman Adams, but it was nowhere near to being the whole story. Adams had a privileged position at the elbow of Dwight Eisenhower, who always stands staunch when it comes to people. He stuck by Nixon and Benson, by Talbott and Wilson, by Gluck and even by his personal prejudices against Harry Tru-man and Adlai Stevenson. Adams was able to hang onto a post which he ought to have relinquished long before. This intion of those who wanted him out of there.

BUT THE THING that betrayed Adams, and can betray any of us, was an overbelief in his own strength. He felt strong enough to be above the need of friendship. To a degree, this is an admirable state of self-suf-

It enabled Adams to shut himself off, to do a prodigious amount of hard, disciplined, important work. He had the qualities that were helpful in the post he held. He could, because he did not mind bruising other people's feelings, say "No" to any man. He could and did hang the phone on United States

BUT THE STRENGTH in which Adams trusted had a chink in it. He needed human more than he knew. He needed men's approbation, their reliance on him, their returned affection. This week, according to offi-cial proclamation of Mayor Frank Bogert and City Council, is Palm Springs Float Week.

IT WILL BE climaxed Saturday by a big parade down Palm Canyon Drive, to arouse thusiasm and support for the float which it is planned to en-ter in the Rose Tournament parade at Pasadena come January

If you ponder the millions who will see it in person and the millions more who will see the Village float via TV, you'll realize that your contribution to the float fund will pay untold dividends in publicity for the com-munity which you call home.

adoption of a clock I saw in a railroad station in Chicago would be a big help. The clocks in the GRIN AND BEAR IT Iron Horse, a refreshment spot in the Union Station in Chicago, all boasted three hands-one ninute and two hour hands.

The black hands, minute and hour, were on Standard Time which the railroads used. There was an additional hour hand - red - which pointed to Daylight Time.

AT FIRST, when you saw the three-handed clock you got the impression that you had tarried long at the refreshment booth but you soon got the idea. You kept your local appointments according to the red hand and caught your trains by

New Grape Flavor Inspires Cool And Crispy Salad

Grape-flavored gelatin, one of three new dark and delicious gelatin flavors, will solve warm weather menu planning with a variety of cool and refreshing desserts and salads. Like the new black cherry and black raspberry-flavored gelatins, grape has a delightful gotogether quality that makes it the perfect companion for fresh fruit, and especially peaches. For a cool salad with crispy overtones, grape-flavored gelatin is teamed with nuts, celery and peaches. . . an appealing side salad for a buffet supper or a light, yet substantial luncheon salad on a hot summer day.

Crispy Peach Salad

1 package grape-flavored gelatin Dash of salt 1 cup hot water 1 cup cold water

14 cup chopped nuts
14 cup chopped celery
1 cup drained canned
sliced peaches

Dissolve grape-flavored gelatin and salt in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in nuts, celery, and peaches. Pour into a serving dish or mold. Chill until firm. Serve on crisp lettuce or water cress. Makes 6 servings.

Quiet, Please

BUFFALO, N.Y. — (UPI) — When Grace Farley complained that her husband had nailed their front door shut to keep her out of the house, police forced the door open and arrested John J. Farley, 45, on a drunk charge. In court the next day, Farley denied trying to bar his wife. He said he only nailed the door shut because "the lock was broken and
